PRIVACY NOTICE

This page describes how this website is managed with regard to the processing of personal data of users who visit it. This notice is provided pursuant to Article 13 of European Regulation 2016/679 to individuals who interact with the company's web services.

This notice sets out certain minimum requirements for the online collection of personal data, and in particular the methods, timing and nature of the information that data controllers must provide to users when they visit web pages, regardless of the purpose of their visit.

Data controller

The data controller is CEL Components S.r.l., represented by its legal representative for the time being in office.

Where personal data are processed

Processing relating to this website's web services takes place at the company's registered office and is carried out solely by the technical staff of the office responsible for processing, or by personnel engaged to perform occasional maintenance operations.

No data arising from the web service are disclosed or disseminated, except where data submitted through forms are transferred to and managed within the company's CRM system, and where they may be disclosed to IT service providers and management software providers appointed as data processors pursuant to Article 28 of the GDPR.

Personal data provided by users who request information material are used solely to provide the requested service or fulfil the requested task.

Types of data processed

Browsing data

The IT systems and software procedures used to operate this website acquire, in the course of their normal operation, certain personal data whose transmission is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols.

This information is not collected in order to associate it with identified individuals. However, by its nature, it could, through processing and combination with data held by third parties, make it possible to identify users.

This category includes IP addresses or domain names of the computers used by users connecting to the website; the URI (Uniform Resource Identifier) addresses of the requested resources; the time of the request; the method used to submit the request to the server; the size of the file received in response; the numerical code indicating the status of the server's response (successful, error, etc.); and other parameters relating to the user's operating system and IT environment.

These data are used solely to obtain anonymous statistical information about use of the website and to check that it is functioning correctly. They are deleted immediately after processing. The data may be used to establish liability in the event of suspected cybercrime affecting the website. Except in such circumstances, data relating to website contacts are currently retained for no more than seven days. The legal basis for this processing is the data controller's pursuit of a legitimate interest, as provided for under Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR.

Data provided voluntarily by the user

If users voluntarily, explicitly and freely send an email to the addresses listed on this website or complete one of its forms, the sender's address will subsequently be collected, as it is needed to respond to the request, together with any other personal data included in the message or form.

Data collected through contact forms are entered and managed directly within the company's CRM system solely to process and respond to requests received and to identify the source of the contact (lead attribution/source tracking) for the purpose of analysing the effectiveness of the company's sales and promotional activities.

The data will be used exclusively for these contact management and analysis purposes and will not be used to send newsletters or other marketing communications unless the user's specific consent has been obtained.

Brief privacy notices will progressively be provided or displayed on the website pages relating to specific services available on request. The legal basis for processing is the performance of pre-contractual measures taken at the user's request, pursuant to Article 6(1)(b) of the GDPR, and the data controller's legitimate interest, pursuant to Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR, in measuring the effectiveness of its business activities.

Use of cookies

For information about the use of cookies, please refer to the separate, more detailed "Cookie Notice" published on this website. It was prepared in accordance with the measure issued on 8 May 2014 by the Italian Data Protection Authority, as amended by Measure No. 231 of 10 June 2021, and supplements this notice.

Whether providing data is optional

Except as specified for browsing data, users are free to decide whether or not to provide their personal data. If they do not provide the data, it may not be possible to fulfil their request.

How personal data are processed

Personal data are processed using automated tools, including software applications and the company's CRM systems, managed by authorised persons or by persons appointed as data processors. Data are retained only for as long as is strictly necessary to achieve the purposes for which they were collected.

Specific security measures are applied to prevent data loss, unlawful or improper use, and unauthorised access.

Transfers to third countries

No transfers to third countries are currently carried out. If the provision of CRM or hosting services should make it necessary to transfer data to countries outside the EU, the transfer will take place in accordance with the safeguards provided for by the GDPR, such as European Commission adequacy decisions or standard contractual clauses.

Data subjects' rights

Data subjects have the right at any time to request access to their personal data and their rectification, erasure or restriction of processing; to object to processing; and to request data portability. They also have the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority.

Requests should be sent to the data controller.
